COURAGEOUS CONVERSATIONS

When the stakes are high, when emotions run strong and opinions differ, top performers are significantly more effective than everyone else because of their ability to significantly influence others by having those crucial, potentially life changing conversations that leave the rest of us shaking with fear. This workshop enables participants to develop a distinct and definable set of conversation skills that produce sustainable professional and personal results. At the end of the program you will feel more confident and ready to successfully tackle courageous conversations.

This program is intended for anyone wanting to boost their emotional intelligence, be more effective in their handling of tough and important conversations and change their lives one conversation at a time.
